Abstract of the Disclosure:

A data read access and a data write access is shared between two memory banks. A first memory bank of which is operated with a clock that is shifted by half a clock pulse with respect to the operating clock of the other, second memory bank. Partial data streams are combined at the output of the two memory banks to form a data stream with double the frequency.

MPW/nt